

STATE CAPITOL NEWS

By MELVIN LORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, May 23.—(UP)—Going into the 12th week of the legislative session, both the assembly and senate still faced the necessity of approving some kind of taxation program, despite the fact adjournment probably was not more than two weeks away.

The week saw one major development, however, when the special revenue and taxation steering committee recommended a new revenue program designed to provide an additional $114,800,000 biennially.

The senate approved the report, but no action has, as yet, been taken by the assembly and a number of torrid debates were expected to center on several of the taxation proposals.

By way of clearing the path for the tax program, the lower house did kill a measure which would have delayed the return of public utility property from the state to local tax rolls.

This transfer will cost the state approximately $65,000,000 biennially in lost revenue, but the change will represent virtually the final step in completion of details of the Riley-Stewart tax plan of 1933. It means that local governments will have more than $889,999,000 worth of property back on their tax rolls.

Having accomplished little in the way of actual unemployment relief, the legislature now faces one of the most drastic bills introduced this session.

Sponsored by Assemblymen William Moseley Jones, Montebello, and Kent Dedwine, Hollywood, representatives of widely divergent political factions, the bill would prohibit the entry into California of any indigent person or persons "likely to become public charges. Enforcement of the proposal would be entirely in the hands of the governor.

In many ways one of the most liberal houses in the history of the state the assembly went on record in favor of repeal of California's "gin marriage" law which requires a three-day wait before a license can be issued, following notice of intention to wed. The lower house also passed a bill which would outlaw alienation of affection and breach of promise suits as causes of court action except in cases of actual seduction. A bill to make mutual consent grounds for divorce was tabled in committee.

The assembly also passed two gag moratorium measures. One would provide a flat moratorium on principal if insurance, interest and current taxes were met, while the other would grant recourse to superior courts as a means of determining interest and principal payments if insurance and taxes were paid.

Enactment of compulsory health legislation was blocked for this session when both houses faced a deadlock over the controversial proposal and decided on appointment of an interim committee to study the question for the next two years and submit a report to the 1937 legislature.

CO. SUPT. COMMENTS ON BOND ISSUE

Sees Need of Support For Grammar School Bond Issue To Replace Condemned School.

Mrs. Ella M. Austin, county superintendent of schools has asked that the following statement be published regarding the coming school bond election for a new grammar school building and a high school.

The question of voting school bonds is a serious one, especially when there is a possibility of a double set being inflicted on a small community which is already carrying a heavy burden. Voters may vote but taxpayers pay the bills.

The taxpayers should weigh the problem and decide to support the bond issue of the school whose need is the greater, in case they cannot afford both.

Since the Elementary school building has been condemned and declared unsafe for further use, the children had to be transferred to other quarters. Therefore, something must be done toward providing a proper building before the opening of school in September. If the High School pupils have been forced out of their building, then theirs must also receive consideration.

To an observer it appears: that one set of bonds will be all that the people of Truckee can afford, also that the Elementary school is in dire need of immediate support.

The plans submitted for the proposed Elementary building consisted of class rooms, halls, and library must meet the approval of the State Schoolhouse Planning authorities. The estimated cost of the building as planned is about $30,000.00 with assurance of $9,000.00 coming from the P. W. A.; thus leaving $21,000.00 to be raised by the people through a bond issue. These bonds would be redeemable at the rate of $1,000 per year. The amount unpaid would run on interest at 4%. The first year the taxpayers of Truckee would be assessed for the $1,000.00 payment along with interest on the $21,000.00, making a total of $1,840.00 extra taxes. This would mean an advance of $37 additional tax per hundred added to the present rate of $4.35, making $4.72. Should both schools demand bonds the additional rate would be more than doubled as the High School contemplates a greater expense for their building. The tax rate would be over $5.00 per hundred. How can the people of Truckee stand all this?

It is a business proposition affecting taxpayers only, and not transient people who are liable to move out at any time. I repeat: Voters may vote but taxpayers foot the bills; and these are the ones who should decide what bonds are to be issued for school buildings.

The foregoing is submitted to the voters of the Elementary and High School Districts of the Truckee section, for their careful consideration, without any feeling what so ever on my part for or against the bonding of either district for the purposes outlined, as that is a matter which is absolutely "up to them" to use the vernacular of the day.

Very respectfully,

Ella M. Austin

Frank Bennetts Dies At County Hospital

Frank Bennetts, 70 years of age, died at the county hospital at Nevada City on Tuesday morning as the result of a fractured skull. Bennetts had been a resident of Truckee for many years and was a pensioned Southern Pacific employee, having been employed by that company for thirty-five years.

Bennetts was taken to the county hospital for treatment on May 16th after an alleged quarrel with Gus Saunders, also a pensioned Southern Pacific employee, with whom he made his home. Both men had been drinking and at the time Bennetts stated that Saunders attacked him with an ax during an altercation. Saunders was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Tom Dolley and taken to the county jail at Nevada City. Bennetts was taken to the county hospital for treatment and was apparently making good progress towards recovery. Saunders was released from custody as both men claimed that Bennetts fell and struck his head on a chair.

Funeral services will be held for Bennetts on Thursday afternoon under the auspices of Truckee Aerie Order of Eagles of which he was a member.

Knights of Pythias Dance Has Large Attendance

One of the most successful dances ever held in Truckee was the dance given on Saturday night by Summit Lodge, Knights of Pythias. It is estimated that over 250 couples attended.

The Masonic Hall had been especially decorated for the occasion and added much to the success of the dance. A large lighted Dutch windmill with revolving blades formed the center of the decorations and the stage was arranged with a black background with Summit Lodge, Knights of Pythias in white letters and a white picket fence with the Knights of Pythias triangle in the gate completed the stage decoration. The hall was lighted with a revolving spot light of various colors and the dancers were announced from a lighted box. The Maddalena Orchestra of six pieces from Sierra Valley furnished the music. During the intermission Edwin Murray of Hobart Mills sang two solos, "The Good Ship Lollypop" and "Isle of Capri."

In addition to the members of the Knights of Pythias of this region and their friends there were members of the lodge from Colfax and Reno in attendance.

Chester Elliott of Hobart Mills, chairman of the dance committee and his committee deserve great credit for such a successful dance.

POPPIES WILL GO ON SALE MAY 25th

Preparations for Poppy Day, to be observed here and throughout the nation Saturday, May 25, went forward rapidly today with the arrival of the memorial poppies at American Legion headquarters. The little red flowers, came from the Yountville Veterans' Home, where they were made by disabled World War veterans, comrades of the men in whose honor they will be worn.

The poppies are being counted and arranged in readiness for distribution to the Poppy Day workers who will offer them on the street May 25, to be worn as a tribute to the World War dead. All work in connection with the observance is being carried out by volunteers so that every penny received as Poppy Day contributions can go into the welfare funds of the Legion.

"The poppies are paper replicas of the wild European poppies which bloomed along the battle front and in the war cemeteries during the World War." "It was this flower, growing between rows of wooden crosses above fresh battle graves, which inspired Col. John McCrea to write his famous poem, 'In Flanders Fields.' The flower is now recognized throughout the English speaking world as the symbol of World War sacrifice."

"Each of the little red flowers has been made by hand by some disabled veteran in need of employment. For each poppy the legion has paid its maker three cents, enabling hundreds of veterans to support themselves and families through the winter and spring. Approximately ten million of the poppies have been made this year, placing earnings in the empty pockets of these disabled veterans."

"In addition to the earnings of the veterans making the poppies, the poppy funds bring aid to thousands of needy families throughout the year."

The school trustees of the Truckee Grammar School and the Meadow Lake Union High School are calling an election for the purpose of voting bond issues for the erection of new school buildings.

The bond issue of the Grammar School is for $22,000 and it is believed a PWA loan can be secured for $9,000 which will make up $30,000 the estimated cost of a new building and equipment. The firm of Marsden & Hurd of San Francisco, architects, have been retained by the trustees of the grammar school and tentative plans have been submitted. The plans for the new building calls for three class rooms and assembly hall on the ground floor with a boys and girls indoor playroom in the basement. A sketch of the floor plan and picture of the completed building is on display in the window of R. A. Tonini.

The contemplated new grammar school building which will take the place of the present two story building which was condemned as unsafe by an inspector from the state department of public works. The school was abandoned the later part of March and classes are being held in the winter sports pavilion and in a dwelling house on Church Street. These quarters are only temporary and provisions must be made in the near future for a permanent place to hold the classes.

The trustees of the Meadow Lake Union High School are proposing a $25,000 bond issue for the purpose of purchasing school lots, the building or purchasing of school buildings and the supplying of school buildings with furniture and necessary apparatus of a permanent nature.

At a recent public meeting it was explained by the president of the board, S. E. Gordon, that it would cost $13,525 to repair the present high school building to comply with the earthquake safety law, strengthen the roof and correct the fire hazards. Additions and improvements which it is desired to make would cost an additional $3,900 making total for repairs and addition to present building, $17,425. It is estimated an entirely new building could be erected for $20,000 and the additional $5,000 would be used to purchase a new site and necessary equipment for a new building. The trustees were of the opinion that it would be more economical to erect a new building than to spend $17,425 on repairing the present building.

W. E. Coffman, architect of Sacramento has submitted a plan for a building such as is contemplated by the trustees and calls for three class rooms, commercial room, typing room, sewing, drawing and cooking room, library and study shop and mechanical drawing and laboratory.

At a meeting of the Lions Club held on May 15th that body on record of approving the bond issue for the grammar school. Chamber of Commerce also endorsed the bond issue for the grammar school.

The election for the bond issue for the grammar school will be held on June 7th and the high school will hold their election on June 11th.

THE PATMAN BILL

While few California editors object to passage of a soldier's bonus bill, many looked with distrust on the method provided in the Patman bill.

Once the printing presses are started to turn out inflated currency, they argue, there's no telling where the process will end.

"The danger of the Patman bill," remarks the Santa Monica Evening Outlook, "is that, if enacted, it will be the beginning of a bad precedent. If the bonus can be paid in printing press money, so can relief expenditures and all government deficits. Once the printing presses are started they will not stop. The politicians and promoters of all sorts of schemes and 'isms' will see in the printing press money means by which they can wreck others and profit themselves. In the end the printing press dollar will be worth little if any more than the paper it is printed on."

"All the elements to make history repeat," said the San Francisco News, "will be ready if the bill does pass the veto—vast national and private debt, mounting resistance to taxation, urgent desire for a miracle on the part of a worn and wearied people, tired to distraction of solving it the 'hard way.' Belief at the start that the printing press can be controlled; that money made by so simple a process can be stopped when one particular bill is paid; discovery how easy it is—and so on, until the value of the money itself begins to shrink, first slowly, then sharply, and then to shrivel altogether."

It would, notes the Santa Ana Register, "be a tremendous boon for everyone who has more to sell than he has to buy. For those whose income is fixed, in terms of dollars, it might be little short of a tragedy. In fact, it is easily conceivable that if this bill became a law that there are many ex-service men who would receive their bonus, and would have to pay out more this coming year in what they purchase, as an increase, by reason of this inflation, than the total amount that they would receive as a bonus."

"American currency," notes the Santa Rosa Press Democrat, "is now on a sound basis, just as President Roosevelt promised it would be when he became chief executive. Paying the bonus is important. Avoiding an adventure in printing press currency is even more important. The taxpayers could have endured the additional burden of raising the bonus money. The veterans could have endured a few more years without the bonus. Either would have been better than to start out on a program of inflation which, if pursued a little too far leads to ruin and which is hard to stop once it is started."

The Los Angeles Post-Record points out, however, that "apart from the merit of the immediate payment of the bonus, many favor it because of the flood of money which it will at once put into circulation. In every corner of the United States business and industry will reflect the stimulating influence. Ever those who have stubbornly opposed the bonus must admit that if it is ever to be paid in lump sum, the time to do it is when the volume of money in circulation is low and the government is bending every effort to give impetus to the upward movement in business and industry."

"It is interesting, however," according to the Long Beach Press Telegram, "to speculate upon what would happen if the bill should become a law and the two billion dollars in United States notes were issued. Those who believe that a certain amount of currency inflation would expedite recovery cannot find a great deal to criticize in this form of sudden inflation. Furthermore, the dumping of such a huge sum of money into the hands of the veterans is unquestionably result in a remarkable amount of immediate spending with retail sales increasing tremendously. Opponents of the Patman bill, including the President, however, feel that all such immediate benefits are not sufficient to balance the evils of increased public indebtedness."

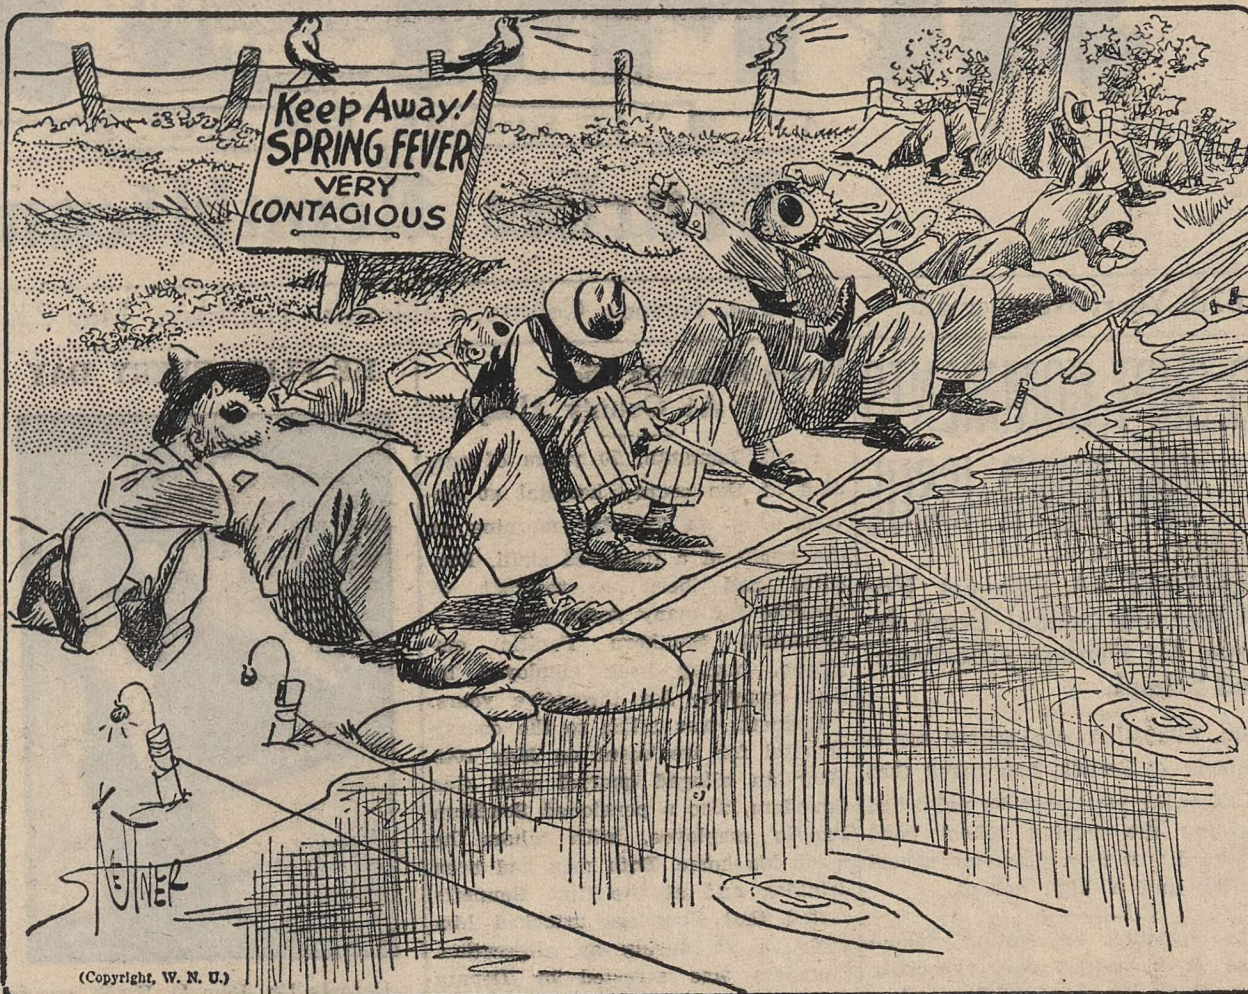

CAN WE AFFORD IT?

Perhaps there is nothing dishonest about it, but those automobile manufacturers in the east who hook their cars behind a lead auto to be towed across the country and put up for sale in this state don't seem to be playing quite fair with California.

A number of persons who think they are not, have drawn up a bill to curb the practice. It will be considered soon in the legislature.

Thousands of cars are moved out here this way. And

Epidemic Sweeps Country

the person fortunate enough to buy one of the sleek "new" models that has actually traveled some 3000 miles on its own wheels is not the only one hurt. All of us are.

Automobile assembling has become quite an industry in California, employing great numbers of men and paying them good wages. And most of the better motor car companies still ship "knocked down" autos to be put together in plants here.

But how long they can keep it up, if the "caravanning" continues, remains a question. It is cheaper to tow cars than to ship them. And the fairer manufacturers must meet the competition.

Can California afford to lose this industry, simply because certain eastern producers hanker after greater profits? Can we afford to let the men employed in it lose their jobs, and go on relief for the rest of us to carry?

If so, well and good. If not, we had better see to it that the bill which will save the industry gets action before the legislators pack their grips and go home.

Politically Speaking

By GEORGE E. HELMER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, May 23.—(UP)—Direct ad valorem, severance, increased gas taxes and consumers' levies on public utility services are taboo so far as the joint legislative revenue and taxation committee is concerned.

Quite faithful in most respects in following the tax program recommended by Governor Frank F. Merriam, the committee balked at severance, increased gas and consumers' taxes, preferring to go only half way toward raising enough revenue to meet federal requirements for unemployment relief during the next biennium.

The final program as drafted by the steering committee with the hope it would win legislative approval contained one major concession by the administration. That was the proposal to eliminate food from the sales tax.

The governor had proposed increasing the sales tax to 3 per cent without exemptions, but there was such a general demand for exemptions that the committee recognized the trend and voted to except food. Merriam was agreeable to the change.

Senator Chris Jaspersen, a member of the committee, continually sought consideration of a two per cent severance tax, to raise $12,000,000, as recommended in the governor's budget message, but the committee refused to discuss the subject in detail after the original vote which was opposed to the principal of a severance tax on natural resources.

Similarly, it declined to accept Senator W. P. Rich's proposal that a direct ad valorem be levied, and voted against his recommendation that a one-cent gas tax increase be levied, for unemployment purposes.

Originally, the committee voted for a consumers' tax on utility services, a part of the governor's budget plan, but later shifted and refused to include this item in the final program.

Members threw out a proposed one-cent increase in the beer tax after a skirmish during which some contended it was unfair to tax beer and exempt wine.

During informal discussion of this subject, the committee was in executive session. One member said he favored a two-cent tax on both wine and beer. A member of the press leaned over and said:

"Both are taxed two cents now." "Oh no, they're not," said the committeeman. "Only beer is taxed." "I'm telling you," said the reporter, "the board of equalization taxes wine, also."

"Oh, no—the board can't do that." "Well, maybe it can't, but it's been doing it for a year and a half now, and issues quarterly reports on the amount of revenue received from the wine tax."

"Oh, no. You're mistaken." Members went on discussing the proposal to levy a two-cent tax on wine and retain the present two-cent tax on beer.

"That'll be putting a four-cent tax on wine," muttered another member of the press. The motion was defeated, 8 to 6. The committee then voted, 10 to 3, against increasing the beer tax one cent a gallon.

As finally approved, the committee program would raise an estimated $115,300,000 in new revenue during the next biennium, $24,200,000 more than is needed to balance the budget. The surplus to be used for unemployment relief, is $20,000,000 less than the amount needed to meet federal requests.

The committee agreed to "let it go at that" and seek a special legislative session next February to raise any additional funds needed.

There was considerable opposition to the federal attitude concerning unemployment relief needs, some members feeling that California control its own relief funds, rather than submitting to dictation. Information that the federal government planned to furnish $192,000,000 against the state's $44,000,000 or $48,000,000 failed to change the opinion of some that "Washington should not tell us what to do."

The proposed program was considered singularly free of the dreaded consumers' taxes. Only the sales tax was regarded as a direct levy on the consumer, all the others being on wealth, industry, or "luxuries," except the automobile transfer tax which merely would shift auto taxes from counties and cities to the state, increasing the rate somewhat.

A correspondent declares that since his salary was raised he is a different man. But we doubt whether his incometax collector will be put off with that.

Legislative Sidelights

Assemblyman William Hornblower San Francisco, argued a highway patrol retirement bill before committee. It provides that the retirement age be lowered to 65 and that half pay for life be given patrolmen totally disabled while on duty. The committee approved the bill, whereupon Hornblower said:

"Thank you, gentlemen. I'll see that your tickets are taken care of."

Senator Thomas Scollan, Sacramento, toured the upper house seeking autographs on a picture of the senate in session.

"This is about all I'm going to get out of my experience with the legislature," he explained.

During a call of the house in the assembly, Speaker Edward Craig asked members to take up non-controversial bills on the file. Assemblyman Geoffrey F. Morgan, Santa Monica, asked unanimously favorable action on a bill permitting establishment of county library branches.

"This is a non-controversial bill," he said. "No one is opposed to it. I'd like all of you to vote for it." While one member questioned Morgan Assemblyman James B. Ut, Tustin, scurried up one aisle and down the other, whispering in his colleagues' ears.

When the vote was called, the "flash" board was almost solidly red, indicating "No." Morgan's was the sole green, or "yes," light showing. A wave of laughter arose, then the members flashed their lights to green, and flickered them back and forth until Speaker Craig said, "Ain't we got fun," where they all settled on green.

Lieut. Gov. George J. Hatfield was presented with two jumping frogs one day when a delegation of Angeles Camp "pioneers" visited the senate to advertise the annual Calaveras Jumping Frog contests.

"I don't know about their jumping ability," he remarked, "but I feel I am qualified to judge their croaking ability after being here three months."

Miss Eleanor Miller, only woman member of the legislature has added a piece of the original capitol door to her collection of gavel. During an assembly celebration of Mother's Day, over which she presided, she was presented with a gavel fashioned from a piece of wood taken from the capitol building's original front door.

Assemblymen Ray Williamson, San Francisco, and William Moseley Jones, Montebello, were debating a habeas corpus bill designed to give Tom Mooney an opportunity to take a petition to the state supreme court instead of the United States supreme court.

"You are a scholarly attorney and gentleman, Mr. Williamson," said Jones.

Williamson looked at some coins in his hand and said: "I am a little short of cash this morning, Mr. Jones."

"How many cases have you taken to the United States Supreme court, Mr. Williamson," Jones continued. "One," replied Williamson, "or I might say I packed the brief case for the other attorney. He got a $200,000 fee. I'd be ashamed to tell you what I got."

HOBART MILLS

Mr. Lewis manager of the Tahoe Fish Hatcheries visited in Hobart Mills on Sunday and discussed plans for future activities in this vicinity. Mr. Lewis has a crew of men at work at Lake Independence preparing a camp and fixing the equipment to take spawn of the native Lake Trout. There are only a few of the native species, called Pogge left in the Lake. In early days all the mountain lakes were well supplied with this variety of fish but at the present time Independence is the only lake there are any to be found. Last year men under the direction of Mr. Lewis secured 175,000 of these fish eggs which were taken to different Fish Hatcheries and later in the season 75,000 young fish were returned to Independence Lake. Mr. Lewis has hopes of getting even more this year and it is his intention to restock as many of the various mountain lakes as possible in the next few years. They have another Lake near Tahoe which is closed to fishing, and planted with the Native Brook Trout which is normally a stream fish. Mr. Lewis figures with the two species properly propagated in large quantities, that the Fish and Game Commission will be able to restock many of the Lakes and Streams in this vicinity with more and gamier fish than we have had since the very early days.

Harry Maggard has arrived from Walnut Grove where he spent the winter and is accompanied by T. Nesbitt who will be employed at Lake Independence during the summer. NORDEN NEWS

As fishing season is trying vainly to hold the top spot in the news, old man winter refuses to lose hold of his firm grip that he has held for many months in these parts. One inch of new snow fell at Norden last Thursday while all through the night snow flurries fell sending the thermometer to below freezing with a strong northerner following in its wake and holding the snow from melting with the result 20 inches of snow remain on the ground at the present time with little prospects of warmer weather.

Fishing has been reported very poor along the Yuba river by many Norden residents who have tried in vain to entice the wily trout from their customary hiding places to adorn their tables.

Mrs. Angie Bealls of Norden is the first Norden resident to successfully display her talents in returning with a pound and a half trout taken from Truckee river near Boca.

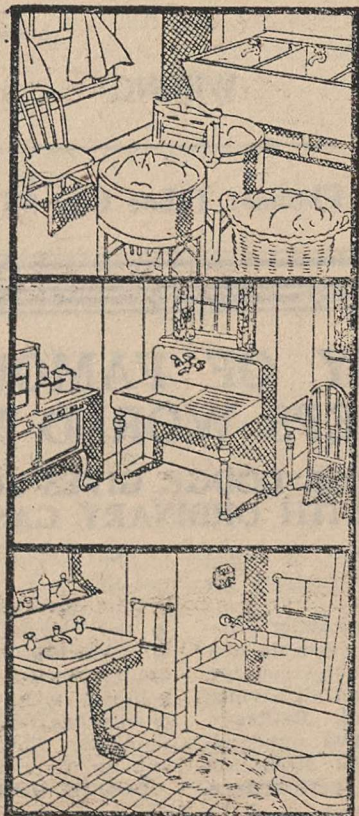

George and William Bacharach thoroughly enjoyed the offerings of the K. of P. dance and ball held in Truckee last Saturday evening. The hall was well filled, with the decorations worthy of much praise and the lighting effects par excellence. The entertainment committee deserve praise for their untiring efforts in making the ball a huge success.

Gold Dredgers Find Bullets

OROVILLE, Cal., May 23.—(UP)

Golden pellets taken from the Feather river near here by gold dredgers have been identified as projectiles from the firearms of early day Californians.

More than a handful of the leaden missiles, often etched with fine gold, are not an unusual return on clean-up day, according to George Arrow-smith, operator of a dredge. The bullets were fired from old muzzle-loading rifles he believes.

Some of the projectiles, submitted to firearms experts, were classified as from .58 caliber rifles, a type of weapon used by the United States army in 1855.

Governor Can't Go Fishing!

SACRAMENTO, May 23.—(UP)—One thing the present legislature can record as having accomplished—it prevented Governor Merriam from going fishing.

Not that the governor wished to go fishing but the opportunity was his. A recent letter received at the executive offices contained an invitation for Governor Merriam to be the guest of Governor Louis J. Brann of Maine at Moosehead Lake during the last week of May. A complimentary 1935 Maine fishing and hunting license was enclosed. But—the legislature was still in session.

FEDERAL BODY SEES NEED FOR HOME REPAIRS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A recent report of the Federal Power Commission shows the great need of the modernization of homes, the Federal Housing Administration, which is insuring such loans under the National Housing Act, announced recently.

The preliminary report of the Commission gives information on domestic and residential electric rates of 50,000 population and over.

An analysis of electric uses by 20,000,000 customers shows that only a relatively small percentage are equipped with major electrical equipment desirable for a high standard of living and home convenience.

There are only 320,000 customers using electricity for all power, including lighting, small appliances, refrigeration, cooking, and water heating. Of the total number of customers, 13,350,000 use electricity only for lighting and small appliances. Less than one-third, or 6,500,000 customers, have electric refrigeration. Only 1,340,000 are properly equipped for electric cooking.

It is expected that succeeding reports will present similar information on electric use in all the thousands of communities which receive service, as well as information on commercial, industrial, and rural use. The survey only covered users in the larger cities, which, because of density of population, are probably the best equipped with electric service. It is quite likely, therefore, that when the data for the more sparsely settled sections of the country are included the need for the modernization of homes will be even more apparent.

The National Housing Act is re-

FORD SITE SOLD FOR 26¢ ACRE

Beauty Spot of San Diego Expo Commands Views of Mexico, City and Ocean

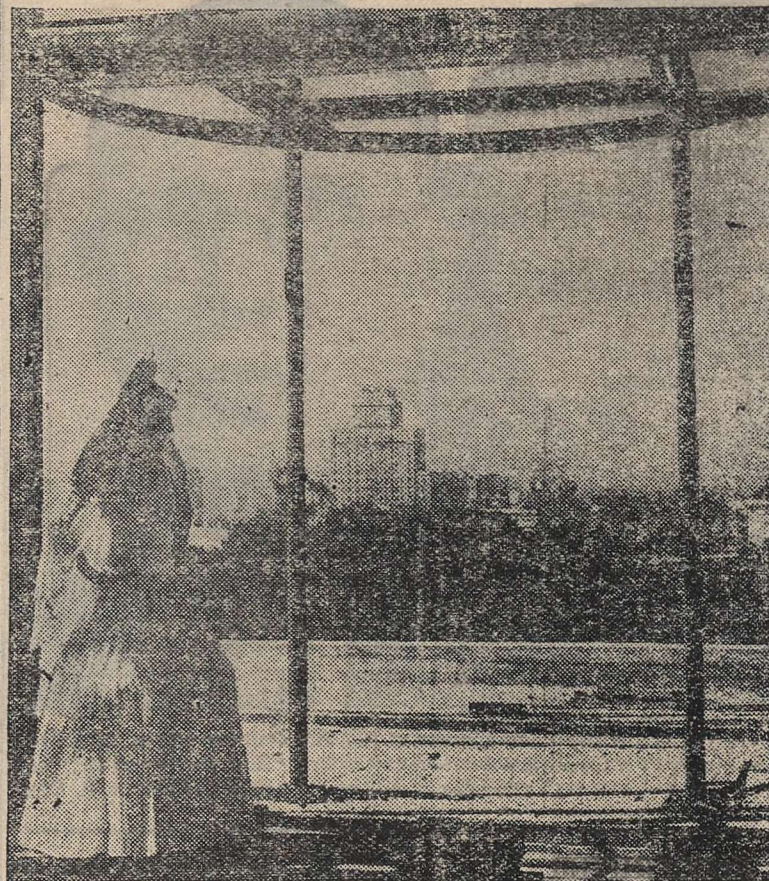

Sixty-seven years ago, one Fr. Heston, of San Diego, sold the site of the Ford exhibits at the California Pacific International Exposition, opening May 29, for 26 cents an acre. Now that site is the commanding view in beautiful Balboa Park where the Exposition will be held.

Eighteen miles to the south of the promontory from which the Ford Building will loom, may be seen Old Mexico. To the west is the Pacific Ocean and in it, Coronado Isle. Slightly to the north stretches the famous Silver Strand and in the nearer background, the city of San Diego itself.

It was Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo who was the first white man to set foot on Point Loma and Senorita Florenz Kelton de Almada, a third generation Spaniard, is a descendant of those earlier conquerors of Southern California. In the accompanying photo she is shown looking out over the city from the Ford site.

Construction work on the Ford Exposition Building, in which the Ford exhibits will be housed, is proceeding rapidly as the concrete for the huge structure is being poured simultaneously with the building of replicas of the roads of the Pacific and the Music Bowl. The Ford Exposition will carry out the theme, from earth to motor car, and also exhibit the exacting tests employed in the making of the car and its parts.

Sees Where Ancestors Landed

The senorita in this photograph is Florenz Kelton de Almada of San Diego. She is shown here looking out from the promontory in the California Pacific International Exposition grounds on which, on the opening date, May 29, the Ford Exposition will greet the public with an exhibit housed in a great circular building surrounded by terraces on which will appear replicas of famous roads of the Pacific. Senorita de Almada is framed by the steel work of the Ford Building and in the background are the skyscrapers of San Diego.

NEVADA COUNTY HAS INCREASE OF FARMS

SACRAMENTO, May 23.—(UP)—California now has a total of 158,146 farms.

This was disclosed in preliminary tabulations of the 1935 census of agriculture made in a federal report to the department of agriculture.

The total number of farms represented an increase of 16.6 per cent over the 135,676 reported in the 1930 census, the report stated.

A total of 541 farms was reported for Nevada county, as compared with 539 farms in 1930.

The increase in the number of farming properties was general throughout the state, the report revealed. Gains were reported in every county with the exception of Colusa, Inyo, Napa, San Benito, Sierra, Tehama and Tulare counties.

Los Angeles county, despite the fact it includes the state's principal metropolitan area, reported the largest number of farms in the state with a total of 13,986.

San Francisco county now has only 255 farms, but that represents an increase of 127.7 per cent in the last five years to indicate a definite "back to the soil" movement.

Fresno county, with 11,703 farms was the only county in addition to Los Angeles which passed the 10,000 mark.

"My soul longeth, yea, even ainteth for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God." These words from Psalms comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, May 26, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Soul and Body." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "And you hath he quickened, who were dead in trespasses and sins: ... Even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together with Christ, (by grace ye are saved;) ... For by grace are ye saved through faith: and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God;" (Ephesians 2: 1, 5, 8).

The following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "Soul is immortal because it is Spirit, which has no element of self-destruction. Is man lost spiritually? No, he can only lose a sense material ... So long as we believe that soul can sin or that immortal Soul is in mortal body, we can never understand the Science of being" (p.311).

Here are two of the fortunate winners of the 1934 Pulitzer prizes. Josephine Winslow Johnson won the award for her first novel, "Now In November," and Dr. Douglas Southall Freeman was given the biography prize for his "R. E. Lee." Each winner received $1000.

Morris L. Cooke, an Atlanta engineer, was appointed head of the rural electrification division of the works relief administration.

Heavy Tourist Influx Is Shown In Four Months

A tourist traffic increase of 35 per cent for the first four months of 1935 as contrasted with 1934 was reported today by the state department of agriculture on the basis of reports received from its border inspection stations.

From January 1st to April 30th, a total of 133,142 tourists entered California from other states. April boosted the total by 52,000, or 29.3 per cent more than in April, 1934.

The department attributed the steady increase to economic conditions, a revival of tourist interest and an advertising campaign carried on in eastern newspapers by California organizations.

At the same time, Earl Lee Kelly, state director of public works, reported the traffic over the Donner Summit is running from 500 to 1500 cars daily. Heavier traffic will come later in the season.

LOOMIS GIVES TALK ON TIRE HAZARDS

"There are a few basic facts about tires which people do not know because they have never stopped to think about them," says R. J. Loomis, San Francisco district manager of B. F. Goodrich Company.

"In the first place," Mr. Loomis continued, "it is not the tire which carries the load of your vehicle. You ride on air—the tire is merely the envelope which holds it. Secondly, the tire is the only part of the vehicle through which your wishes can be converted into motion—a start, stop, or change of direction—for it is the only contact between the vehicle and the road."

"Third, the tire is subject to almost every variety of strain imaginable—internal and external pressure, squeezing, lengthwise push and pull, twisting, warping and pounding and not the least of all the centrifugal force which tends to tear the tread from the cotton reinforced carcass of the tire."

"Taken altogether, these constitute genuine punishment for an article constructed of rubber and cotton. And while modern tires are built to take a great deal of punishment there is a limit to what even the best of them can withstand.

"Unfortunately, blowouts, for most of us, occur at unfavorable moments. The average driver, when a blowout comes, does not usually know how to keep his car under control. On one side may be telegraph poles and a ditch, on the other oncoming cars also traveling at high speed. If he eludes both sets of hazards and comes to a stop right side up, he has had at least a normal individual's share of luck—especially since more tires blow at high speeds than at low.

"Goodrich (Silverstown) tires, because of their patented 'Golden Ply' construction, are three times safer from blowouts at high speeds.
